

Calendar of Events

kim@foodsystemsnetwork.org

October 27, 2025

CARAT Information Session

This is a virtual event.

01:00 PM - 02:00 PM EST

The North American Food Systems Network has released CARAT as a free, open-access resource.

The Community & Agriculture Resilience Audit Tool (CARAT) helps community stakeholders assess how they currently utilize the assets of their local food system to achieve a substantial level of community resilience.

CARAT measures the resources within a food system via 101 indicators to determine possible next steps to increase community resiliency and food sovereignty.

To learn more, please consider attending one of our CARAT Informational Sessions.

November 5, 2025

NAFSN Leadership Circle Meeting 2025

This is a virtual event.

12:00 PM - 01:00 PM EST

Leadership Circle Meetings are open to all members of NAFSN throughout 2025. During the one-hour monthly meeting, NAFSN Leadership members review and discuss the organization's monthly leadership report. Led by Natalie Cruz, Co-Director of NAFSN, the group makes time at the beginning of each meeting for new members to briefly introduce themselves to the group.

November 5, 2025

Finding Your Future in Food Systems, Nov 5, 2025

This is a virtual event.

06:00 PM - 07:00 PM EST

Are you an emerging food systems professional? Are you in career transition, seeking a job in community food work?

This series is for you!

Finding Your Future in Food Systems provides participants with connections and insights to help them identify next steps for their careers.

The series includes speakers from a wide variety of sectors within the food systems profession: policy & advocacy, market development, food access initiatives, value chain development, education, and farming, both urban and rural.

The series features speakers from job-creating organizations, agencies, and businesses, some working locally in their communities, others with national and international scope. Produced by college students for college students and other emerging professionals.

Featured speakers for this session on Wed, Nov 5, 2025:

Gabriela Soriano, University of Puerto Rico Extension (farmer services)

Joe Childs, Crawford Stewardship Project (watershed protection & farming)

Sasha Palmer, Public Schools of Brookline MA (school food & nutrition)

November 13, 2025

Mini Course Info Session, "Marketing Farmers Markets"

This is a virtual event.

02:00 PM - 02:30 PM EST

Looking for a quick, multi-media, professional development course packed with insights, ready-to-use materials, and more?

Come to this free information session to learn about "Marketing Farmers Markets," NAFSN's first micro-credential course.

Produced in partnership with the national Farmers Market Coalition and the University of Wisconsin, this course is specifically designed for community-based decision makers committed to helping their local farmers markets grow.

This information session is free to the public. The course is free to NAFSN members.

November 18, 2025

ACRE Information Session

This is a virtual event.

01:00 PM - 02:00 PM EST

Are you interested in becoming a trained food systems facilitator?

Or, are you looking for an affordable & practical professional development opportunity for your staff with lasting impact?

Join us for a free Information Session on ACRE.

AgriCluster Resilience and Expansion - or ACRE for short - is a professionally-facilitated strategic planning process to help groups of farmers, especially those in value-chains, work together and compete more effectively.

The ACRE Facilitator Training program provides instruction specifically designed for food and agriculture systems professionals to facilitate and guide the ACRE Process with farmers and other community stakeholders in the values-based development of more resilient food value chains.

In the ACRE Information Session, you'll learn about the training course, and the community of practice employing ACRE in their food/ag communities.

December 3, 2025

NAFSN Leadership Circle Meeting 2025

This is a virtual event.

12:00 PM - 01:00 PM EST

Leadership Circle Meetings are open to all members of NAFSN throughout 2025. During the one-hour monthly meeting, NAFSN Leadership members review and discuss the organization's monthly leadership report. Led by Natalie Cruz, Co-Director of NAFSN, the group makes time at the beginning of each meeting for new members to briefly introduce themselves to the group.

December 3, 2025

Finding Your Future in Food Systems, Dec 3, 2025

This is a virtual event.

06:00 PM - 07:00 PM EST

Are you an emerging food systems professional? Are you in career transition, seeking a job in community food work?

This series is for you!

Finding Your Future in Food Systems provides participants with connections and insights to help them identify next steps for their careers.

The series includes speakers from a wide variety of sectors within the food systems profession: policy & advocacy, market development, food access initiatives, value chain development, education, and farming, both urban and rural.

The series features speakers from job-creating organizations, agencies, and businesses, some working locally in their communities, others with national and international scope. Produced by college students for college students and other emerging professionals.

Featured speakers for this session on Wed, Dec 3, 2025:

Audrey Kaul, FarmWise Indiana (value chain coordination)

Ariel Rivers, National Association of Conservation Districts (food systems & natural resource conservation)

Thomas Smith, KC Food Hub (food hub management)

December 11, 2025

Mini Course Info Session, "Marketing Farmers Markets"

This is a virtual event.

02:00 PM - 02:30 PM EST

Looking for a quick, multi-media, professional development course packed with insights, ready-to-use materials, and more?

Come to this free information session to learn about "Marketing Farmers Markets," NAFSN's first micro-credential course.

Produced in partnership with the national Farmers Market Coalition and the University of Wisconsin, this course is specifically designed for community-based decision makers committed to helping their local farmers markets grow.

This information session is free to the public. The course is free to NAFSN members.

December 16, 2025

ACRE Community of Practice Meeting

This is a virtual event.

02:00 PM - 03:00 PM EST

The ACRE Community of Practice meets quarterly to provide ACRE Facilitators with an opportunity to network and learn best practices from each other.

December 22, 2025

CARAT Information Session

This is a virtual event.

01:00 PM - 02:00 PM EST

The North American Food Systems Network has released CARAT as a free, open-access resource.

The Community & Agriculture Resilience Audit Tool (CARAT) helps community stakeholders assess how they currently utilize the assets of their local food system to achieve a substantial level of community resilience.

CARAT measures the resources within a food system via 101 indicators to determine possible next steps to increase community resiliency and food sovereignty.

To learn more, please consider attending one of our CARAT Informational Sessions.

October 23, 2025

Mini Course Info Session, "Marketing Farmers Markets"

This is a virtual event.

02:00 PM - 02:30 PM EST

Looking for a quick, multi-media, professional development course packed with insights, ready-to-use materials, and more?

Come to this free information session to learn about "Marketing Farmers Markets," NAFSN's first micro-credential course.

Produced in partnership with the national Farmers Market Coalition and the University of Wisconsin, this course is specifically designed for community-based decision makers committed to helping their local farmers markets grow.

This information session is free to the public. The course is free to NAFSN members.